Description / Abstract

This toolbox is a collection of existing tools which are offered to participants of the Power in MSP learning trajectory. When designing action learning around cases, PSO member organisations and their consultants are faced with a challenging task. First, they are to engage stakeholders so they can become more aware of the power dynamics in which they are involved, and find ways of responding effectively to these dynamics. Second, action learning aims to establish a trustworthy information base on which analysis can be done. Third, the ambition is to document and share experiences in such a way that cross-case comparisons can be made.
